the Plan.

READY FOR FARGO TRIP

Club Members to Go on Special
Pullman and Wear Distinctive Garb.

The Bismarck Rotary club is planning to undertake a big program for Bismarck boys.

The plan was outlined by F. L. Conklin president of the club, on the eve of the club's departure for Fargo to attend the district conference of Rotary.

A budget to take care of the work for one year has been made. The club now is engaged in the selection of a man who will give all of his time to the boys' activities of Bismarck, and in addition will aid in all community endeavors.

Rotary has undertaken as its principal work in the city the aiding of the activities of the future generation of Bismarck citizens. One of the encouraging features to the club in this line of endeavor was the fact that the club's first banquet ever held here, which was a real success.

Would Unite Scouts.

The supervisor of boys' activities whom the Rotary club will employ will take charge of and co-ordinate the Boy Scout troops of the city, and will look after recreation and play of the boys. The Rotary club feels that there is a big field for the club.

Eighty-five per cent of the club members will make the trip to the Fargo district conference, where 1,000 Rotarians from North Dakota, Minnesota, part of Wisconsin and the upper peninsula of Michigan will be present. Mr. Conklin planned to leave earlier to participate in committee discussions previous to the assembly of the conference. Most of the club members will leave tomorrow night in a special car, Dickinson Rotarians, which Bismarck Rotarians helped to start in Rotary, will be on the same train.

Wear Distinctive Garb.

The Bismarck Rotarians will wear distinctive garb, which is held to be very appropriate for delegates from a state capital, where there are officials, politicians, a penitentiary and so many other things. The Rotarians will not divulge the secret of their costumes until they leave, however. The club will make the Pullman car its home during the Fargo stay.

The Bismarck Rotary club was organized in April, 1920. The officers of the club are: President, F. L. Conklin; vice president, Bert Finney; secretary, Raymond M. Bergeson; treasurer, Geo. F. Dullam. The officers of the club feel they will be able to present a report of many worth-while accomplishments of the local organization to the district conference, including a remarkably good average attendance at the weekly luncheons.

Members of Club.

The members of the club are: J. L. Bell, Clyde Bonham, R. M. Bergeson, C. A. Baker, C. F. Bolt, F. L. Conklin, L. S. Craswell, F. A. Copelin, G. F. Dullam, Geo. Duemeland, H. J. Duemeland, H. S. Dobler, P. R. Fields, J. P. French, Bert Finney, H. P. Goddard, A. G. Gussner, Henry Halverson, George Humphreys, Geo. N. Keniston, A. W. Lucas, W. E. Lahr, Roy P. Logan, John A. Larson, H. T. Murphy, Phil J. Meyers, Carl Nelson, W. E. Perry, Roy H. C. Postlethwaite, Dr. E. P. Quinn, Dr. L. A. Schipper, H. H. Steele, Harold J. Semling, Dr. S. B. Toner, L. K. Thompson, Robt. H. Webb, J. L. Whitney, Geo. H. Will, Lewis Warren, T. R. Atkinson, C. W. McGary, honorary members, Judge A. M. Christianson, Judge W. L. Nuesse, William Holbein.

RIVER ICE IS PRETTY WELL
ROTTED OUT

The breaking up of the ice in the Missouri river will not be much of an event here this year. For the last several days the water has been pushing through holes in the ice, which has rotted away under a bright sun. North of the new Bismarck-Mandan bridge for a distance the channel is open, but the ice has so worn away north of the city that unless cold weather knits it together again the breaking up entirely of the ice will not amount to much. Much colder weather was forecast for tonight.

Fargo, N. D., March 26.—Senator E. F. Ladd of Fargo has left for Washington, where he will arrange to take up his new duties as one of the senators from North Dakota in the new congress, which opens April 11.

Sensor Ladd, before leaving the city, received word from Washington notifying him that he had been placed on the senate's agricultural committee.

FIRST MEN CONVICTED
NEW "BONE DRY" LAW GET YEAR EACH IN PRISON

Two young men, Alonzo Weaver De Vore and Lee Wesley Mitchell, of Sioux City, Iowa, are in the state penitentiary today under a one-year sentence as a result of booze running.

The young men were taken before Judge W. L. Nuesse, in district court, last night and pleaded guilty. They were charged and sentenced under the act passed by the legislature this winter making penalties for booze running much heavier.

Each was charged with transporting liquor, and the sentences imposed were severe because each carried a revolver.

The young men, both in their twenties, were captured last Saturday night in McLean county. One of them, it is said, had made one trip before to the Canadian border, but the other was engaged in his first.

The new prohibition law provides as penalty for the first offense a fine of not less than $200 nor more than $1,000, and imprisonment in jail not less than 90 days nor more than one year; for the second offense not less than one year's imprisonment and not more than two years. In addition it is provided that if the person convicted of transporting intoxicating liquors used an automobile or other vehicle not owned by him, or when such was mortgaged property "or if there be in or upon such conveyance so used, or upon any person therein any firearms, or guns, he shall be deemed guilty to a felony, and be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary not less than six months and not more than five years."

Booze running is still going on in the northern part of the state, according to Sheriff Tom Hennessey, of Bottineau county. "High jacking" is becoming the bane of the bootlegger's existence, however. "High jacking" is a term applied to the robbery of one bootlegger by another.

START ACTION TO COLLECT FOR WORK ON PROBESeek to Collect Money for Sten-ographic Hire of House
Investigation

A mandamus proceeding was brought today in district court here against D. C. Poindexter, state auditor, to compel him to issue warrants to C. C. Wattam and to stenographers employed by the house investigating committee named by house of representatives during the legislative session. The petition for writ alleges that $2,167.00 is due.

Judge Nuesse set April 4 as time for hearing on petition.

Auditor Poindexter had refused to issue warrants for expenses of committee on ground that there was no appropriation from which funds could be drawn, because one branch of legislature could not incur such expenses.

The petition alleges six thousand dollars in legislative expense fund from which should be paid. The suit was filed by Cameron and Wattam.

COMMUNISTS IN GERMANY SEND
RIOTERS AIDReinforcement of Communists in Mansfield and Eisleben
in Progress

Halle, Saxony, March 26.—(By the Associated Press).—Reinforcement of the Communists rioters at Mansfield and Eisleben was in progress this morning. Armed workmen were moving from Halle and vicinity in the direction of these two towns. Their declared purpose was to join their comrades, notably the party which after many hours of fighting had been driven out of Eisleben by the security police.

According to information from police and communist quarters the purpose of the government was the surrounding of the Communists at Eisleben.

The fugitives from Eisleben were reorganizing today on the hills north-west of that town. Communists here reported.

REPORT DEFEAT

Oberniederringen, Prussian Saxony, March 26.—(By Associated Press).—Reports that the Communist forces which have been fighting at Eisleben against the police have been defeated, were brought here last night.

One of the refugees sent to me (the correspondent) "You haven't heard of fighting in America. This sort of fighting is better there."

After Eisleben this little village seemed very peaceful. Women were praying and the church bells were ringing.

Fargo, March 26.—Senator E. F. Baker of Renville county, was re-elected president and P. M. WOULD CHANGE
TO ROOSEVELT

Mitchell, S. D., March 25.—Directors of the Mitchell chamber of commerce voted for the appointment of a committee of three to begin a state wide campaign to secure a constitutional amendment changing the name of South Dakota to Roosevelt.

The name Roosevelt was chosen because the late Theodore Roosevelt spent part of his early manhood in Dakota. Among reasons advanced for the campaign to change the state's name is that more than 30 bank failures in North Dakota have been attributed to South Dakota.

Westport, County Mayo, Ireland, Mar. 26.—(By Associated Press).—Pandemonium prevailed here early today when Crown Forces engaged in reprisals for a recent ambush near here. There was continuous gun fire in the town for several hours. Houses and shops were wrecked with bombs and furniture and other effects were burned.

For several days past many persons have been sleeping outdoors in anticipation of reprisals.

COURT'S ORDER
IGNORED; WEHE
HEARING HELDWitness Put on Stand in Governor's Office—Commissioner
Not Present

The hearing set for today by Governor Frazier on charges against L. J. Wehe, as commissioner of the Workmen's Compensation Bureau, proceeded today as scheduled.

Judge Nuesse, of district court, yesterday issued a writ prohibiting the hearing, which was promulgated upon the original charges made in April 19, 1920, which were the basis of Wehe's action in the courts under which he was ordered restored to office.

The call for the hearing was read, however, George K. Foster, representing the Governor as attorney, proceeded to question witnesses in the Governor's office. Neither Wehe nor his attorney appeared and there was no cross examination.

Among the witnesses was John N. Hagan, commissioner of agriculture and labor, ex-officio chairman of the workmen's Compensation Board. Hagan testified that the bureau was considerable trouble in the bureau after it was organized. Wehe, he said, told him that John Brown, then secretary, was the cause of the trouble and if Brown were let out he and McDonald could get along. Brown resigned but the trouble continued, the witness said.

Mr. Hagan declared that Wehe insisted on deciding claims "in fine technicalities of the law rather than the spirit of the law and justice." He told of board meetings where he alleged Wehe exhibited temper and that generally he could not get along with employees or other commissioners.

Mrs. Martha Evans Johnson, formerly employed in the bureau, testified she wrote a 130 page brief for Wehe on bureau time, using Bureau stationery. Janitor W. H. Turner alleged he gave Wehe a claim to collect for him, that Wehe acted as attorney, and claimed that Wehe never gave him any of the money he collected. A number of other witnesses were to be heard.

U. S. DECLINES TO TRADE WITH
SOVIET RUSSIAGovernment's Position Is Made
Plain in Note by Pres.
Harding

FOLLOWS DISCUSSION

Cabinet Meeting Decides Policies on Which U. S. Will Make Agreement

Washington, March 26.—The American government has notified the soviet authorities in Russia that resumption of trade between Russia and the United States could not be considered until fundamental changes had been made in the economic system underlying the soviet regime.

Safety of human life, guarantee of property rights, free labor and observance of the sanctity of contracts were among the requirements laid down in a brief note by Secretary Hughes as essential if the doors of commerce between the two countries are once more to be opened. The communication added that "convincing evidence of the consummation of such changes" must be furnished before this government even cares to discuss the subject.

Not Attractive to Powers

These requirements, the note declared, lay at the foundation of Russian productivity, by which alone the nation could hope to rebuild her foreign trade and make herself attractive economically to the nations with which she desires to exchange products.

The communication was made public at the state department in the form of a statement by Secretary Hughes with the notation that a copy of it should be sent to the American consul at Rostov, Esthonia, to be handed to Litvinoff, the soviet representative there. The note was in reply to the appeal recently addressed by the soviet regime to President Harding and congress, asking that trade relations between the United States and Russia be restored and proposing to send a delegation to the United States to negotiate to that end. No mention was made by Secretary Hughes of the proposal to send a delegation to this country.

Discuss Question Two Hours

Prior to making a final decision the Russian trade question was discussed for nearly two hours by President Harding and his cabinet, taking into account a vast collection of data on Russian conditions gathered by the state and commerce departments. In a statement after the note had been made public, Secretary Hughes declared the conclusion reached "shows the complete agreement of the views of the whole administration."

HOPE FOR FIVE
BALLOON MENMay Have Reached Small Island
Off of Florida Coast

Pensacola, Fla., March 26.—Though discouraged by the failure of their two day search to reveal some trace of the missing craft naval officers today had not given up hope of finding the missing naval balloons with its five occupants who have been missing from their air station here since last Tuesday. Airplanes, dirigibles, Eagle boats and subchasers continued to scour the air and coast in the vicinity of the place the balloon was last reported.

As the search progressed the belief grew that chief quartermaster Wilkinson and his four student companions had succeeded in reaching shore at some isolated place, probably an island or reef and might not be heard of for days.

GERMANY IN NEED OF RADIUM

Berlin, Mar. 26.—Once the chief producer of radium, Germany now has barely enough to meet the medical needs of the great universities. There is only one gram of radium in all Berlin, and proportionately even less at Heidelberg and other university cities.

The shortage is said to be due to the fact that karmothit used in the manufacture of radium is no longer imported from America. The Germans say the United States could supply plenty of karmothit, but in view of the low purchasing power of the mark the Germans cannot afford to buy it.

VIVIANI INDICATES MESSAGE
HE'S BRINGING TO AMERICA.

By Milton Brommer.

Paris, Mar. 26.—Interviewing Rene Viviani, the former French premier, just before he boarded the Lorraine for America, is like talking to a reincarnation of the leopard whose skin lies on the floor of Viviani's magnificent library.

The great Frenchman paced up and down while uttering short, sharp "no's" to many questions.

"Do you think I am going to tell you in advance all I am going to say to President Harding? I don't make my speeches twice," he growled.

He paced up and down some more.

Then broke out:

"Here is the message I want to give to America through the Newspaper Enterprise Association:

"Some weeks ago the French government asked me to greet President Harding. Four years ago I had great honor with Marshal Joffre of going to greet your American democracy on the eve of its entry into the war for right which found our allies and ourselves united with America."

"It is quite natural that after election of your new president, France should try to pay some of her debt of gratitude by greeting through her elected chief the country whose generosity and courage have been of such great help to us in time of distress."

"By going to offer my homage to President Harding and also by entering into contact with eminent American leaders, I have only one plan, one aim, one intention."

"It is to show France as it is attached to peace, to justice, having before it one interest and that it is to obtain satisfaction for wounds made in her flesh and injuries done her economic life by unspeakable aggression."

"Relying upon her right, France asks nothing but what is her duty. Being hard at work today as yesterday she was earnestly at war, she is

RULES MADE BY
COMMISSIONERDefine Methods of Listing of Deflated Values.

All calculations in assessment of taxes of merchants' stocks of goods must be based on inventory prices, George E. Wallace, tax commissioner, has ruled. He has addressed a communication to tax supervisors on the subject of assessing merchants for the year 1921 as follows:

"You are instructed that in assessing stocks of goods, under item 19, assessors will use the following method:

"Inventory plus invoices to April 1, then deduct sales to April 1. All calculations must be based on invoice prices. No allowance for deflation will be made. Deflation is already reflected in the inventory. One-half of the value thus calculated will be the base for assessment."

"However, should it be claimed that deflation was not made in the inventory application for such deductions must be made directly to the Tax Commissioner."

STORMS IN CALIFORNIA

Thermometer Expected to Drop near Zero in United States

Washington, Mar. 26.—Anything but favorable weather for the annual Easter fashion parade was forecast today by the weather bureau. An unexpected storm of marked intensity with its fall swinging low over southeastern Colorado caused a revision of preliminary forecasts of fair weather tomorrow. The storm is sweeping east, northeastward and pressure was high today, off the Atlantic coast and high and rising rapidly in the Northwest. Elsewhere the weather was acting badly with showers and sun thunderstorms in New York state, Great Lakes region and lower Missouri Valley.

There were light rains and snow in the Northwest, in Montana and North Dakota the temperature was expected to drop to near zero.

Everywhere east of the Mississippi there were promises of unsettled weather and showers over Sunday. Some sections may escape, but there was no comfort on the map. In California there were storm warnings.

For Next Week.

Washington, Mar. 26.—Weather predictions for the week beginning Monday are: Upper Mississippi and Lower Missouri Valleys.

Generally fair, but with a probability of rain Wednesday or Thursday. Freezing temperature at beginning of week normal thereafter.

FUNERAL RITES FOR CARDINAL NEXT THURSDAY

Death Will Not Affect Holy Week Services at Baltimore Cathedral.

Baltimore, Md., Mar. 25.—Funeral services for Cardinal Gibbons, who died yesterday, will be held on Thursday.

His grave will be a niche in the crypt under the high altar of the cathedral. A slab of marble carved with an inscription in Latin in the north wall of the crypt will mark his resting place.

Above this vault, behind whose south wall lie the six archbishops of Maryland who preceded him, is the sanctuary of the cathedral to which Cardinal Gibbons' parents brought him as a baby to be baptized, where he was consecrated a bishop and an archbishop, and where on June 30, 1886, he was invested with the robes of the cardinalate.

There, too, stands the throne of the cardinal, and above the throne will hang the cardinal's hat, symbol of princedom, in the Catholic hierarchy. There it will hang as long as the cathedral stands.

The death of the cardinal in the midst of Holy week devotions at the cathedral, will not affect the services there. Throughout Good Friday and holy Saturday and the dawn of Easter the body of Cardinal Gibbons will lie in his own room where he died. On Easter Sunday night it will be moved to the cathedral, to lie there throughout the masses of Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday where his people may see him for the last time, through the high requiem mass that will be his funeral on Thursday and from there to be borne to its niche in the crypt.

CAUSES PROFOUND GRIEF.

Rome, Mar. 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—News of the death of Cardinal Gibbons caused the most profound grief at the Vatican, coming as a particular shock to Pope Benedict, who had just written a letter of congratulation to the Cardinal, hearing he had regained his health.

"Both the church and America have lost one of their greatest men," exclaimed the Pontiff on being informed of the death. The name of Cardinal Gibbons will go down in history.

LARRY McLEAN, BASEBALL STAR, IS MURDERED

Boston, March 25.—James J. Connor a bartender in a soft drink parlor, was charged with murder in connection with the shooting and killing of Larry McLean, former catcher with National League teams. John McCarthy who was with McLean was severely wounded.

Connor told the police that McLean and McCarthy had made threats against the saloon and its bar force. He said McLean tried to climb over the bar to attack him, with McCarthy following. It was in fear of his life that he fired, Connor said.

McLean was a familiar figure on National League diamonds for years playing with the Boston, Cincinnati and New York clubs. He was a storm center on the field and off because of his aggressive disposition and had been suspended at various times by club managers who found him not easily amenable to discipline.

DEBS CALLED WITHOUT GUARD TO WASHINGTON

By Associated Press Licensed Wire. Washington, March 25.—Unattended and without the knowledge of the public, Eugene V. Debs imprisoned Socialist leader, came to Washington yesterday, from Atlanta penitentiary and for three hours discussed his case with Attorney General Daugherty. The unprecedented trip of Mr. Debs was made with the approval of President Harding who recently requested Mr. Daugherty to review the case of the Socialist leader and make a recommendation on it. The attorney general, in announcing last evening that Debs had visited Washington and was on his way back to the Atlanta penitentiary, said that while there was no precedent for calling a prisoner to Washington without a guard it had been decided in conference with President Harding that inasmuch as Debs had defended himself at his trial he should come here to answer in person such inquiries as the government desires to ask. Mr. Daugherty added that he believed he had the authority to place the prisoner on his honor and he assumed full responsibility.

BACK TO PRISON. Atlanta, Ga., Mar. 25.—Eugene V. Debs, socialist leader, reached here about noon on his way back to his cell in the federal penitentiary after his unattended visit to Attorney General Daugherty to Washington. He would not discuss his trip, and accompanied by the warden and the attorney left immediately for the penitentiary.

March Worst Month for This Trouble—How to Remove Easily.

There's a reason why nearly everybody freckles in March, but happily there is also a remedy for these ugly blemishes, and no one need stay freckled.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength, from your druggist and apply a little of it night and morning, and in a few days you should see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the light ones have vanished entirely. Now is the time to rid yourself of freckles, for if not removed now they may stay all summer, and spoil an otherwise beautiful complexion. Your money back if Othine fails. Adv.

ESSEX

It Now Holds This Price Advantage

Essex quality quite naturally creates an expectancy of high price. Compared on every hand to costly cars it would be strange if many did not fall into that error.

Thus actual price comparisons give Essex true value in sharp relief.

How many of the cars in the Essex price range do you ever embrace in the same thought with it in regard to fineness, ability and distinction?

And do not the cars that you consider in the Essex quality class invariably cost hundreds of dollars more?

In reaching a standard by which to understand Essex values you must consider such price contrasts, as well as facts bearing on ability and dependence. Such examination will convince you also of the unusual value the Essex represents.

SPEEDING TO MINNEAPOLIS WITH SMITH

Inspectors Leave Salt Lake City With Alleged Mail Car Bandit

READY TO WAIVE TRIAL

Will Drop Robbery Charge, If Accused Pleads Guilty to Murder, Says Atty.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 26.—Three postal inspectors are on their way to Minneapolis with Dell Smith, charged with the killing of Z. E. Strong, mail clerk on Northern Pacific No. 2, near St. Cloud. Smith is alleged to have confessed to the robbery and murder. He was captured at Salt Lake City.

The inspectors are watching him carefully, it is said, as he continually threatens to kill himself, having apparently broken down under the strain while attempting to elude the officials since the crime was committed two months ago.

May Waive Trial.
Alfred Jacques, United States district attorney, announced he is prepared to waive trial of Smith on a federal charge of robbing the mails if the prisoner pleads guilty to murdering Zachary E. Strong, Minneapolis mail clerk.

If Smith refuses Jacques' "concession," the district attorney said he is prepared to prosecute him on charges, sufficient if proved, to keep him in prison "as long as we want him there."

Intercepted mail addressed to "Harold Sweet," brought about Smith's arrest. This mail was sent to Smith, postal authorities say, by a St. Paul woman, the wife of a "fence," who is the woman scheduled for arrest soon after Smith's return.

Prepared Defense.
Smith's friends in the Twin Cities are reluctant to believe dispatches that he has confessed. They are now preparing a defense to prove that the confession was forced from him.

About the same time that Smith was captured postal authorities arrested a fourth woman in the case, Mrs. Mary Widmar, Ashland, Wis., sister of Mrs. Patrick Hendricks, St. Paul, one of the three women arrested a day after the robbery, when about $40,000 of the loot taken from the mail car was found in a suit case belonging to it, was charged.

Will Not "Fuss Over Debs Case"
Indianapolis, March 26.—National Adjutant Bolles said he was not in favor of "making a fuss over the Debs case," on receipt of a protest against Debs' trip to Washington, unaccompanied.

Smith had only 90 cents in his pockets when arrested. He told his captors he had spent $1,200 of the stolen money. The real he said, he had cashed in a St. Paul apartment.

Smith's arrest was described in dispatches from Salt Lake City as follows:
"Drake and Jackson approached Smith from the rear and pressed revolvers at his side."

Patrons Fear Holdup.
"Jackson cried out, 'one move and we'll shoot.' My God I'll give up," Smith replied. Postoffice patrons thought a holdup was in progress and fled to the street.

"Smith then is said to have admitted every charge made against him in a signed confession. A complaint was drawn up by the district attorney and he later was taken before United States Commissioner Henry V. Campbell for a hearing. The hearing is to be continued at 9 A. M. today."

"I'm in for it, but I am glad that it is all over," said Smith a few minutes after his arrest. "I was constantly in fear. As I walked down the street I felt at any minute that some one would grab me. It is an awful feeling. I fired at that man without thinking. I read of his death two days later, and was sorry. I didn't intend to do it."

Asked for Hendricks.
A conversation carried on between Smith and the three postal clerks a few minutes before the robbery led to his arrest, inspectors said. Smith asked the clerks if they knew Pat Hendricks. They replied that they did, and asked Smith if he was acquainted with him.

"No, I don't know him, he is said to have replied, 'but I know his daughter, Grace McDonald, mighty well.'"

Patrick Hendricks is a postal clerk working out of St. Paul, and the husband of Mrs. Alice Hendricks, but has not been living with her, it is said. Taking the "tip" regarding Mrs. McDonald, the inspectors established her relations with Smith and recovered the bulk of the loot in her apartment.

Smith says that he is 18 years old, but the inspectors contend that he was 20 years old last June. He has light curly hair, blue eyes and a boyish face. He was well dressed when taken into custody. He told the inspectors that he came to Salt Lake a week ago.

DRAMA CRITICS GIVE PRAISE TO U. OF N. D. PLAY

Performance of North Dakota Players Declared Equal to Professionals.

"Better acting has never been done by the University Players," so ran Mr. Benson's heading in his review of the home appearance of The Dakota Playmakers in "A Rose of Plymouth Town." The critic went on to say:

"A Rose of Plymouth Town" which Beulah Marie Dix and Evelyn G. Sutcliffe wrote some years ago was presented at the Metropolitan theater last night by the Dakota Playmakers. The occasion was the annual public appearance of these ambitious and talented university folk, and it was made a very happy occasion by those who took part in the play and by those who made it ready for their admirers. It was given a very excellent interpretation.

To one who has seen the players of this society in all their public performances, it was a happy occasion, indeed, for one could not help but think that at last they were coming home in the matter of their annual presentations. The American drama, of which so many unkind things have been said, if memory does not fail me, the second trial in the history of their annual plays. Once before they tried "Nathan Hale," which came from the pen of Clyde Fitch and which had its vogue upon the professional stage when its spell was woven by the late Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott. Here is another American play, which takes one back to the days when the republic was in the making. It is an American play, and the Dakota Playmakers did well to give it, especially in these months when we have been carrying our minds back to the days of the Pilgrims and the Puritans.

But, there was another thing which made last night's performance a very happy affair. It was the capable manner in which it was interpreted. The Dakota Playmakers have never done better acting. In many respects, it was the most finished production they have given; certainly it was better mounted than any play they have given. But I will go further; in the ensemble work, in the grouping of characters, in the moving back and forth of the men and women, it was smoother, more artistic and more finished than in any play they have given. For this, one gives praise to Mrs. John B. Cooley, who had entire direction of the play. One must also give her credit for the finished and intelligent pictures each person gave. It was an uncommonly fine bit of work.

Elmer Grandson as Garrett Foster, and Vernetta Thompson as "The Rose of Plymouth Town," carried off the honors. Theirs were splendid pictures, featured by delightful shading and fine intelligence in varying the mood. Mr. Grandson made an unusually good hero for despite the fact that he stole corn and kisses, he was the hero. He was just the sort of a fellow who could steal either corn or kisses and get away with it. Miss Thompson gave a delightful visualization of Rose. Her varying moods were excellently portrayed.

Elks. His funeral will be held Tuesday under the auspices of the Knight Templars.

MISS FREEBURG FASTEST TYPIST AT HIGH SCHOOL

Bismarck Student Writes 74.2 Net Words a Minute in Speed Contest

Much enthusiasm and pep was shown in the recent typewriting tournament that was held in the commercial department of the Bismarck High School. Myrtle Freeburg, a junior, demonstrated that she was the school's fastest typist, by defeating all other contestants. Her best rate was 74.2 net words per minute.

Thirty-two students entered the contest. Anyone in high school eligible. The one who came out victor had to win five times in succession. During the contest there were seven pupils who wrote at the rate of more than fifty words per minute. Here they are, according to their rate of speed:

Myrtle Freeburg, 74.2.
Gordon Hallett, 62.
Dorothy Parsons, 59.2.
Clara Christ, 57.2.
Barbara Goldner, 55.
Esther Katz, 53.6.
Adeline Johnson, 53.2.

After all others were eliminated, the final contest was between two juniors, Myrtle Freeburg and Dorothy Parsons. In this Myrtle proved herself the best, as she wrote over twenty words per minute faster than her opponent.

Another contest is to be held in the near future. To be qualified for this, one must be able to write at the rate of forty words per minute.—High School "Pep."

UNIVERSITY PLAYERS PRODUCTION ON PAR WITH PROFESSIONAL PLAY

The production of "A Rose O' Plymouth Town" by the Dakota Playmakers of our State University, is one of the high-water marks in the work of that excellent dramatic organization.
The Playmakers organized in 1910 as the Sock and Buskin Society, have given the people of Grand Forks and the University, and on three occasions the people of the outlying districts as well, some memorable plays. Among these have been "Nathan Hale", by Clyde Fitch "The Devil's Disciple" by Bernard Shaw, "The Love Chase", by Sheridan Knowles, "Tom Pinch", the dramatization of Dickens, Martin Chuzzlewit the famous old morality play, "Everyman", and a large number of Shakespearean plays.
This year in presenting "A Rose O' Plymouth Town" they turn again to a truly American play, American in nature, which calls for vividness of portrayal, excellent action, and splendid costuming, all of which the Playmakers' cast under the direction of Mrs. John B. Cooley, herself a graduate Playmaker, have achieved.
The Playmakers are to appear in Bismarck on the evening of Friday, April 1 in the city Auditorium.

The members will assist in the installation of the ladies auxiliary of the organization.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

EASTER

Nineteen centuries have passed since the first Easter, when Christ rose from the dead.

The Easter of 1921 finds the world torn by strife, dazed and groping, binding its wounds.

Fortunately there is noticeable a marked return to the spiritual—to a recognition that the world's people cannot be guided to peace and happiness except through the teachings of Christ.

Until the Nazarene's ethics become part of our daily lives, there will be class hatred, oppression, wars and rumors of war—and all the other phases of unhappiness and sorrow.

The world today needs religion—more than for centuries and a thousand times more than it needs anything else which could be prescribed.

On this Easter, commemorating the resurrection of Christ, let us all highly resolve to resurrect individually the principles for which Christ died—to make them the guiding spirit of our daily lives.

Easter, 1921, should mark the rebirth of humanitarianism—of spiritual happiness and material betterment through self-denial.

FOR SAFER SCHOOLS

The report just made by the national committee for chamber of commerce cooperation with the public schools on a survey conducted by the American City Bureau, ought to be far from reassuring to the parents of children in public schools. The committee is headed by George D. Strayer of the Teachers' College of Columbia University.

This report indicates that in 429 cities of the United States tens of thousands are attending school in firetraps, and that hundreds of thousands are compelled to attend half-time or in makeshift, insanitary buildings.

Passing the problems of playground room, which in some cases is limited to a space of six by six feet for a pupil and in other none at all, the question of fire hazard, seems vital.

Of all the buildings in these cities, "only five per cent are of the type of construction usually called fireproof," 25 per cent of the two poorest types of school buildings included in the survey are of two or more stories and without fire escapes; 80 per cent of these two types have no fire extinguishers and less than 10 per cent have automatic extinguishers in any part of the buildings; only 11 per cent have automatic fire alarms. And one-half of the present day schools were built prior to 1897.

It seems that a real menace exists. How about our city? Are our public school children amply protected in case of fire?

Constant fire drills by pupils, automatic sprinkler equipment, hand grenades in every room, and automatic fire alarms would reduce the fire hazard wonderfully even in buildings that are not of the latest fire proof construction.

TO PROLONG YOUR YOUTH

When you are 96 years old, will you be as rugged and as young in heart as this old gentleman whose picture is printed herewith?

He is John B. Babcock of Boston. Celebrating his 96th birthday, he wants you to know about his simple method for keeping Old Man Time at arm's length. He says:

"Every old person can keep young, happy and spry by having a hobby for recreation. My hobby is solitaire—and my cat. I play 70 games a day, probably more than any other person in the world. They call me the Solitaire Prince.

"But I don't play cards on Sunday. Everybody needs a day of complete rest once a week—rest from play as well as rest from work. Just take it easy on the Sabbath."

John D. Rockefeller, most successful man that ever lived, is 82. To keep in trim, he has three hobbies—golf, his garden and bicycle riding. He doesn't pedal. Hires a man to push while he steers.

Paderewski, nearing old age, has a hobby—billiards. The disappointments and misfortunes that he has encountered recently would have broken most men." But Paderewski picks up his billiard cue—and smiles

Napoleon came within an ace of being emperor of the world. Fallen, imprisoned, he kept from going mad by taking up a hobby—solitaire.

Lewis Carroll, greatest mathematician of grandfather's day, wrote fairy stories including "Alice's Adventures in Wonderland." This hobby helped keep him and millions of readers young in heart.

Grandfather may also remember George Francis Train, the railroad genius of 60 years ago. All his remarkable projects collapsed. In his old age he found a hobby—haunting New York parks to talk to children. That kept him happy until he died at 75.

Play is the spirit of youth.
Play—have a hobby—to retain youth's spirit. And don't wait until your hair turns white, else old age may be upon you before you are aware. Dr. Eugene Lyman Fisk, head of the Life Extension Institute, says: "In the cities women on the average live to 61 years and men only to 56. In rural districts, women live to 68, men to 66."

So nature is the greatest hobby, though golf and chess men have their place.

You have nature at your very door. Take long walks in the March sunshine and breathe in the spirit and invigorating air of approaching spring. That is the greatest antidote for old age—the real Elixir of Youth.

BACK FROM THE GRAVE

From California comes a mother's claim that she has a spirit baby, restored from the dead. True or not, this interesting piece of news is valuable, if for no other reason than that it sets people arguing and stirs up their brain cells.

Newspaper readers in the past read similar stories.

Long ago Constance Whitney, an English girl, was pronounced dead by doctors. A thief dug her up, to steal her valuable rings. He fled into the night, for Constance climbed out and lived to a ripe old age. Physicians today say that Constance probably had catalepsy or some other form of suspended animation.

Henry Laurens, first president of the American Congress during the Revolutionary War, had a beautiful daughter. She contracted smallpox and was given the treatment then in vogue. Red curtains were hung about her bed and all windows closed. The patient was pronounced dead by physicians.

But Henry Laurens, always a doubter, threw open the windows and let in the fresh air. This revived his daughter, according to his writings. Many will laugh at Henry Laurens—but the knowing ones will agree with him that fresh air has wonderful curative powers. Keep your windows open at night. Take long walks.

THE RADIUM WOMAN

In May, America will be visited by one of the world's most remarkable women and its greatest woman scientist—Marie Curie, 54 years old. She, with her husband, discovered radium, used in cancer treatment and for researches in higher science.

Although she was one of the discoverers of radium, Madame Curie has none herself for experimental purposes. So American women are going to present her with a gram, worth $120,000 when she arrives. It will be contained in a tube the size of the lead of a large pencil, about an inch long.

Madame Curie is Polish. She teaches at Sorbonne University, Paris, with nothing except her salary as teacher to depend upon, for unselfishly she did not patent her discovery but gave it to humanity.

The things in America that Madame Curie desires most to see are the Grand Canyon and the Pittsburgh plant where radium is manufactured commercially.

The Pittsburgh Plant produces radium by refining ore from southeastern Colorado. Its output for the entire year 1920 was about 18 thimblefuls—but it was worth $2,160,000.

Largely this was used for medical work, but you can thank Madame Curie when you tell time at night by a radium illuminated watch dial, when you hit the radium-illuminated keyhole with your key, or when you snap on an electric light by means of the radium-illuminated switch button that shines in the dark like a lighthouse lantern on a black and stormy night.

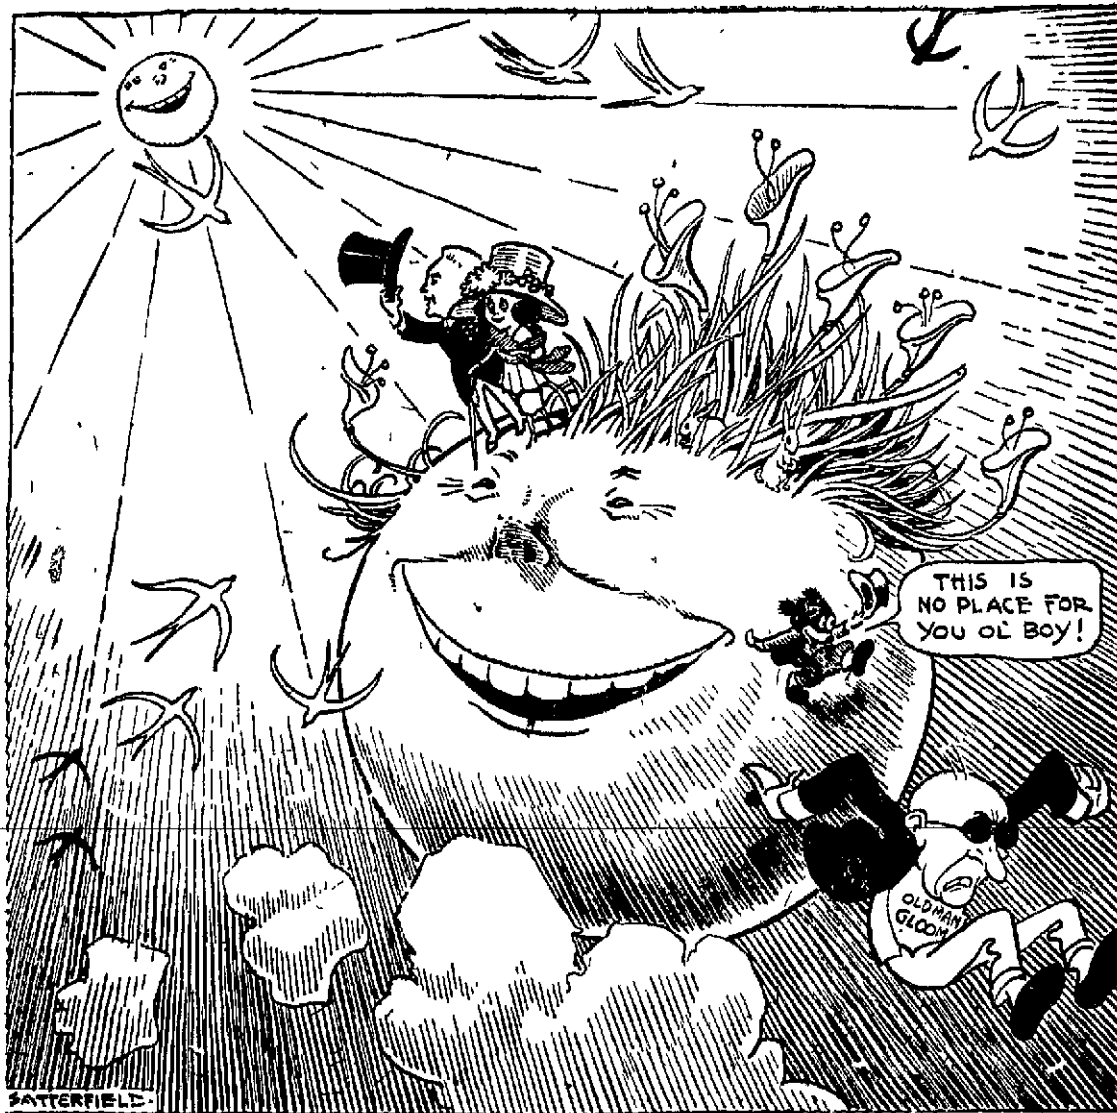

Madame Curie, remarkable scientist, the country welcomes you!

Among life's sorrows is the home brew that turned to vinegar.

More important than price reductions is the fact that factories are turning out better quality of products.

Most fellows start the season in the Backyard Garden League like Baba Rutha and lose their battling eyes when fishing for the first time.

THE SPIRIT OF EASTER

FLOGGING OF PRISONERS IN MICHIGAN PRISON ENDORSED

Michigan's legislature has placed its endorsement upon flogging in the state penitentiary at Jackson, and the disciplinary methods of Warden Harry L. Hulbert have been approved. This action followed the charge brought against Warden Hulbert by various women's organizations, after it had been learned that flogging was practiced on refractory inmates at the prison.

A legislative committee was appointed to investigate the matter, and much publicity was given the flogging methods, it being alleged that as a result of this practice, three inmates had been taken to the criminal insane asylum at Ionia.

Because of the wide publicity given the charges against Warden Hulbert, the committee made an exhaustive examination and inspection of the prison. Several hearings were held without the knowledge of the warden and only information to his credit could be found.

The committee can not speak too highly of Warden Hulbert and his method of conducting the prison, reads the report. "We approve this course in every particular."

In connection with this investigation it has developed that the prison, with its 1,285 inmates is a big manufacturing enterprise, as well as the guarded home of those who have violated the laws of the state. Its buildings and grounds, machinery and farms, are valued at upwards of $2,000,000.

RAILROADS MUST CUT OVERHEAD SAYS CUMMINS

Predicts There Will Be No More Legislation to Help Them Out of Difficulties.

BY H. B. R. BRIGGS
Washington, March 26.—The railroads will not go to smash during the next few months—and there won't be any more legislation to help them. This is the plain declaration of Senator Albert B. Cummins of Iowa, chairman of the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce, and one of the authors of the transportation act of 1920.

"Most of the roads will be able to pay operating expenses at least, even if a revival of business is deferred until next fall or winter," Cummins said. And then the senator gave his diagnosis of the railroad crisis and prescribed his cure.

"Just two things have to be done," says Cummins.

"First the cost of operation has got to come down. If railroad management is not efficient it must be changed so that it will be efficient.

"The change cannot be brought about by law. It must come by the opening of the eyes of those who own the railroads, the real owners, the stockholders.

"I take it for granted that when their eyes are opened they will select competent and efficient men to manage their property.

"If it turns out after a fair trial that we cannot get efficiency in railroad management, there will be nothing to do but resort to government ownership, which I do not believe the country wants, but may be forced to adopt.

"No further legislation is required for the successful operation of the railroads, assuming that the management of the roads is efficient.

"It may be that additional legislation will be called for later—but it hasn't become necessary yet.

"The transportation act of 1920 was not perfect, but we provided the roads with all they need if they are properly and wisely managed.

"The difficulty with the railroads at present is due to a tremendous falling off in traffic.

"About one-sixth of the freight equipment of the roads is idle.

"This slump began about the middle of last November. It was the result of the general collapse of the country's commerce, a result of the war, felt in every country. Rail business naturally must be less on a falling market. Everything had been going down.

Costs Far Too High

"That, however, doesn't account for the entire situation or even for the greater part of it.

"The railroads' condition is due to the fact that the cost of operation is far too high. It must come down.

"Steel products must come down, and wood products. Judge Gary was mistaken when he said that the price of steel would not come down. It will at least as soon as labor comes down. And labor too must come down.

"But I don't believe that labor ought to come down except at the actual cost of living drops and certainly not to the pre-war level. That is impossible.

"Here are some facts that reflect the tremendous increase in railroad operation expenses.

"The cost of maintaining ways and structures during 1920 was $250,000,000 more than in 1919.

"The equipment bill was $230,000,000 more in 1920 than in 1919.

"The transportation item—the cost of transportation operations—was $750,000,000 more in 1920 than in 1919. Approximately $100,000,000 of this was due to the wage increase effective from last May.

Federal Orders

"There is difference of opinion as to what account for the rest of it. My own judgment is that it is the action of the transportation orders promulgated during federal control, and the system of extra pay for overtime.

"I believe that a man who works hard for eight hours has done a pretty good day's work and that for anything over eight hours he should get extra pay.

"But it is absurd to apply this to every man whose time happens to run over eight hours.

"There are thousands of station agents in little towns who don't actually work more than three hours a day. Two or three or four trains pass through the towns and the agent is on hand for a little while before and after each train. It is absurd to give him overtime just because his last train at night passes through more than eight hours after the first one.

"But labor is only one of the costs that must come down. I think the railroads can save this year at least $10,000,000 in coal alone. Most of the roads paid highly extravagant prices for coal last year. They bought on contracts that were extremely excessive. The business judgment of railroad managers in buying coal was exceedingly poor.

Need for Consolidation

"One of the most essential things necessary for efficient railroad management is the consolidation of the roads into 14 or 15 big systems.

"The provision for this in the transportation act of 1920 is not mandatory, but merely permissive. I made every effort to have it obligatory, but nobody else seemed to want it.

"The farmers didn't like it because it eliminated competition, but they are seeing things differently now, for they have a very effective plan under way for cooperative marketing that will eliminate competition in the sale of their products.

"The railroad workers don't want consolidation because they are after government ownership.

"The railroad owners don't want it either, because it would abolish a lot of positions held by incompetent men.

"But if we are going to keep on fighting for it, it must come, if we are to have efficient economical operation."

WHERE HAVE YOU SEEN THIS FACE?

Do you recognize this face? It should seem familiar, for you see it more often than any other—even your favorite movie star's.

Miss Mae Burns is the most successful commercial model in the United States.

This fall she becomes international going to Europe to pose for advertisers.

Her face is her fortune; and alluring ensemble of peppy leath and chestnut-brown hair.

Milliners and modistes, cosmetic and hairdressers, and soft drink and candy vendors exploit their products through the medium of her beauty. Her income is as large as a movie star's and she has refused contracts for the season and for the stage at Chicago where she was interviewed.

Miss Burns said philosophically: "All life is a competition in advertising. The non-advertiser and the fake advertiser fail. A young woman's first business is to advertise herself. Also, the first business of a young man is to advertise himself.

"A woman advertises herself by her physical and mental attractions, her personality and temperament. Perhaps the most important of these is physical attraction.

"Beauty, grace and energy are the most desirable qualities in women. The early Greeks worshipped physical beauty. Modern scientists hold that physical qualities are all that they should be, the other qualities will take care of themselves.

"It is undeniable that women are in competition for a mate or for a career, but especially for a mate. This is often, I suspect, more or less unconscious; but she is on the hunt, and no woman who values herself neglects her appearance. She makes or should try to make herself as attractive as possible.

"The cry being raised in various quarters about short skirts is silly. There is no reason why a girl with pretty legs and feet should conceal them any more than that she should conceal her face or her hands.

"The girl with pretty legs and feet is entirely justified in thinking in displaying them by wearing short skirts. It is good, legitimate advertising.

"The dowdy, unkempt woman not only fails to attract desirable men from among whom to select a husband, but she fails elsewhere.

"The woman, though, who keeps her body trim, takes care of her complexion and studies the styles from shoes to hats, which are best coming to her, usually gets what she goes after.

"Men are in somewhat the same sort of competition as are women. A young man's assets in life are his ability, his mind, his strength, his personality. The more he advertises these, the more he is in demand."

POPULATION OF PRISONS SHOWS SMALL DECREASE

12.4 Per Cent Decline in 6 Years in Middle West

Chicago, Mar. 26.—Prison population of the middle and southwestern United States has decreased 12.4 per cent in the past six years, according to reports collected by The Associated Press from state penitentiaries in 16 states.

The decrease amounted to 2,729 prisoners. The total penitentiary population of the 16 states in 1914 was 23,947. In 1920, 19,218. Date of the comparative figures was for the most part Dec. 1 of each year.

Falling off in the prison population of the section is equivalent to more than the combined prisoners of Iowa, Kansas, Wisconsin and North and South Dakota in 1920.

The decrease, however, was shown to be uniform throughout the territory. Six states had the reverse to show, reporting an increase, while one pre-ferred exactly the same figures. The decrease came from nine states.

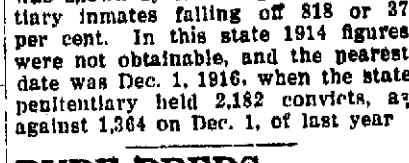

The advance in the six states amounted to 834 prisoners, while the decrease in the nine states aggregated 3,563 prisoners. This gave the total decrease of 2,729.

States whose penitentiaries reported less convicts than six years ago were Arkansas, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Minnesota, Missouri, North Dakota, Texas and Wisconsin. States that had the contrary story to tell were Illinois, Kansas, Michigan, Nebraska, Ohio and Oklahoma. South Dakota was the state whose prison population on Dec. 1 of the two years was identical.

The largest decrease in any state was shown by Kentucky, its penitentiary inmates falling off 318 or 37 per cent. In this state 1914 figures were not obtainable, and the nearest date was Dec. 1, 1916, when the state penitentiary held 2,132 convicts, as against 1,364 on Dec. 1 of last year.

TOO ILL TO WORK

A Mother Tells How Her Daughter Was Made Well Again by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Philadelphia, Pa.—"At the age of sixteen my daughter was having trouble every month. She had bad pains across her back and in her sides, her back would pain her so that she could not do her work and would have to lie down. My married daughter recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She took it faithfully and is now regular and has no pain. We recommend the Vegetable Compound and give you permission to publish this testimonial." Mrs. KATIE BIERMAN, 4034 N. 1st St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Starting a day, or sitting in cramped position and feeling wretched, young girls contract deranged conditions, and before they are fully aware of it they develop a habit of having irregular periods, and becoming nervous and pale. If it is not cured, it may lead to a permanent condition. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a safe and reliable remedy for all such troubles. It is the only medicine that will cure them. It is the only medicine that will cure them. It is the only medicine that will cure them.

SPRING HATS IN MANY NEW MODES. SAILORS, TURBANS, AND STRAWS. BLOSSOM FORTH IN MILLINERY SHOPS

By Marjorie Howe Dixon.

"The time has come, the Walrus said To tell of many things."

And with the very first breezes of the spring and even earlier woman's mind quickly turns to talk of her new bonnet. Long before the snow is off the ground, long before the flowers arrive, bright new hats warn us of the arrival of that ever delightful season. Time was when new hats were kept in strict seclusion and tissue paper until the event of Easter, then to blossom forth in brave array, whether a billiard table or no.

Now no woman can afford to ignore it if she please her she will don her wondrous glory and a dash her dearest enemies with a fresh new creation of dazzling novelty. After all this her privilege.

There are certain styles of hats which have won their way into the hearts through their comfort, smartness and utility. Each season plays a diapason of changes in these favorite themes. Their reappearance is never monotonous. The two styles I have in mind are sailors and turbans. Close-fitting, comfortable, and long-enduring, either turban or sailor is a genuine addition, a real friend.

Sailors this year are as various, as changeable as the weather itself. New straw of shiny finish and bright colors is called Barnyard mixed straw. We have with us again, and slipper straw and the good old Milano Pippings come in many colors, usually in contrast to the brail they bind. Sila and straw blends are in, too.

Now as to shape, for sailors it seems to be a case of sit yourself. There are wide-brimmed, high crowned sailors. There are narrow silk brimmed ones with straw crowns. There are soft rolling brims and stiff firm ones. All crowns are high.

One smart bright sailor reloaded in a black shiny brim and a crown of silk braids of many bright colors, which covered the crown, and after being pulled through the brim, fell behind the wearer's ear in a long shawl. Another sailor, a French model had a brim composed entirely of grosgrain ribbon in navy blue. At the base of its tall crown it tied itself into a soft floppy bow.

Turbans are equally popular with women. In fact more women can wear turbans than can wear sailors. A good milliner will, however, carefully study a turban from every angle before she sells it to her customer. Because a turban style can be most painfully and dreadfully awful, if it does not fit the individual.

But then one need not worry. Take the sailor hat, our friends the millinfluted or piped with impunity so long as it be colorful.

It seems to one viewing sports hats, by and large, that there is a general tendency to crushiness. This word isn't in the dictionary but then it denotes at once, I am sure, to any woman, that pleasant faculty of being packed in small space, and emerging later with that unruffled serenity that marks so many of the new fabric hats.

LIEDERBACH TO MOVE TO FARGO AS LEAGUE HEAD

New Committee Will Maintain Headquarters in That City

Senator A. A. Liederbach, of Dunn county, chairman of the Nonpartisan league state executive committee, will move to Fargo and devote all of his time to his duties, he said during a visit in Bismarck. Walter Maddock, secretary, and Ole Kaldor, treasurer, also will maintain offices in Fargo and R. H. Walker and Chris Levang, the two other members of the committee, will spend much of their time traveling.

The new executive committee takes office on April 1. One of its first acts will be to consolidate the Courier-News and North Dakota Leader by publishing the Leader from the Courier-News plant, it is said. No state manager will be employed, Senator Liederbach said. As chairman of the committee Senator Liederbach will act in that capacity.

ZACK'S REAL HANDLE IS JOHN THOMAS

Tampa, Fla., March 25.—Faw fans know the real handle on pitcher Zack's name. He's a star on the Washington team.

He was christened Jeremiah Tatum against his will when he was into Washington a year ago, a green unseasoned youth.

He put his name on the hotel register as J. T. Zachary, and refused to disclose what the J. T. stood for.

A couple of Washington scribes put him down as Jeremiah Tatum. The name has stuck to the North Carolinian, ever since.

Zach then came through with the real dope on himself. It's John Thomas.

But in big league baseball he'll always be Jeremiah Tatum.

Zach won 15 games and lost 6 last season. And he looks for a better run this year.

Chiropractic for Adenoids

The word "adenoids" has been so commonly used that the average person feels he knows exactly what is meant by it.

The chiropractor can give you a logical reason why the adenoid has grown. It is this: The mucous linings of these cavities are supplied by nerve fibres. These nerve fibres carry to the tissues, life force in the form of impulses of secretion, impulses of heat, impulses of expansion, and others. These must all be perfectly balanced, and are perfectly balanced, providing the nerve fibres are free to transmit the life force from the brain to the membrane. If, however, some of these fibres are pressed upon, they are unable to transmit th proper quality and quantity of life force. When this is true, an abnormal condition exists. Where is it that a pressure can be produced which will result in this abnormality? There is only one place, namely, the point at which the nerve is given off from the spinal cord and passes between the bony segments of the spinal column.

The chiropractor is especially trained to locate these abnormalities of the bony segments and to restore them to the normal condition.
